

Curriculum Vitae

General Information

Name Rawina TRAUTMANN
Languages German
Sorani-Kurdish
English
French
Farsi

Professional Experience

- Since 2020 Research Assistant (“Wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiterin”) at the European University Viadrina, Chair for European and International Politics
BA-courses taught on: International Relations theory in combination with a contemporary global political case study, Feminist International Relations, Gender and Security
- 2018 - 2019 Internship followed by the position of student assistant at the German Chemical Industry Association (VCI), Berlin Office
- 2017 Internship at OMV AG, Department of International and Governmental Relations
- 2017 Internship at UNICEF Hamburg
- 2016/2017 Internship at the Austrian Institute for International Politics (OIP)
- 2013 Internship at the Permanent Representation of the Rep. of Iraq to the UN in Geneva

Education

- Since 2020 PhD Candidate at the Chair for European and International Politics, European University Viadrina, Germany
Working title: “Breaking Through Gender-Specific Constructions of Women’s Roles Within ISIS”
- 2018 - 2020 Master of Arts – European Studies (Major subject: Politics), European University Viadrina, Germany
Master thesis: “Human Rights Violations in the Name of National Security: The Case of European Foreign Fighters in Iraq and Syria”
- 2019 International Affairs, Sciences Po Paris (Exchange semester), France
- 2013 - 2017 Bachelor of Arts – Political Science, University of Vienna, Austria
Bachelor-thesis: “When the fate of women lies in the hands of family honour: A comparison of honour based violence in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq and Albania through the lens of Bourdieu’s symbolic capital”
- 2012 - 2013 International Relations, Geneva School of Diplomacy, Switzerland
- 1999 - 2012 School education in Austria, Iran and Switzerland.
Graduated high school from the International School of Berne, Switzerland (International Baccalaureate)